

WE WELCOME THE debate

Last week, the Democratic candidates for president came to Detroit and made their cases to the nation. As a neighbor in this community since 1959, we welcome every debate about clean air, greenhouse gas emissions, and how industries can cooperate with the neighborhoods that have grown up around them.

CLEANER AIR. We've invested hundreds of millions of dollars at our refinery to reduce the regulated emissions called "criteria air pollutants" by almost 80 percent over the last 20 years. In fact, in the heavily industrialized two-mile radius around our refinery, our emissions represent only 3 percent of the total. And over the last five years, we have also reduced our greenhouse gas emissions by 8 percent for every barrel of crude oil we process.

LISTENING TO OUR NEIGHBORS.

We're pleased that the Kemeny Community Center, which was recently renovated with help from our $2 million donation, was the site of a discussion about the interaction between industries and neighborhoods. For almost 20 years, our Citizens Advisory Panel (CAP) meetings have brought together people from the neighborhoods around our refinery, together with local emergency responders, elected officials, businesspeople and educators.

We are transparent about our safety record, environmental performance, and projects that are under way. We listen when CAP members ask questions, share their concerns, and when they challenge us to do things differently or provide even more information. We value their ideas for investing our volunteer time and making meaningful donations in the community.

A regular newsletter after each CAP meeting, sent to every local address, and a dedicated website – www.detroitrefinery.com – mean you don't need to be a CAP member to know the latest developments at the refinery.

We know that being a good neighbor means listening before talking, and we've always welcomed the debate. We're proud to be part of this community, and proud of our role for the last 60 years. We're just getting started.
